THE NEW PATROLMEN.

The Appointments are to be Made This Week.

The ten new patrolmen, for whom provision is made by the appropriation ordinance for the ensuing fiscal year, will be appointed this week, probably about Thursday or Friday, and will be assigned to duty as soon as possible.

Applications for places are still being filed, and as only ten and no more can be appointed there will, of necessity, be many sore disappointments.

CHAIRMEN SAY NO FRICTION

ROBATHAN AND CALPIN IN FAVOR OF PEACE.

Latter Says He Will Endeavor to Have the Former Agree to Present the Facts to Court in the Form of a Case Stated with the Understanding That Neither Is to Claim the Chairmanship Until a Decision Is Reached by the Court—Joint Session to be Held Tonight.

There is every reason to believe that the common council muddle caused by the election of two chairmen on Monday will be righted and settled in a peaceable and orderly manner. At least, that's what E. E. Robathan and P. F. Calpin, the opposing chairmen state.

Mr. Calpin stated yesterday afternoon to a Tribune man that he has referred the question of the legality of his election to his attorney. If the latter says that his election was perfectly legal and that he has a good chance of winning out if the matter is brought to the attention of court, he will continue to assert his claim to the chairmanship. If, on the other hand, his attorney decides that, in his opinion, he has no legal right or title to the place of chairman and that Mr. Robathan was legally elected, then Mr. Calpin will withdraw gracefully and take a seat on the floor.

WILL BE NO FRICTION.

"At any rate," said he, "there will be no friction. If my attorney tells me that I have a right to the chairmanship, I will endeavor to have Mr. Robathan agree to the presentation of a case stated to court, with an understanding that neither side is to claim the chairmanship until a decision is rendered. At tonight's joint session I will make no claim for the chair and Mr. Robathan has agreed not to do so either. Both sides will simply go into the meeting and sit down together, side by side, in peace."

It is understood that Mr. Calpin took ex-Speaker "Tom" Reed's famous ruling as a precedent for the declaration that there was a quorum present on Thursday morning when the clerk called the roll. It will be remembered that there were only nineteen members out of a required twenty really in their seats. A. L. Lewis came into the room for a moment, but didn't answer to his name. He was recorded as being present, as was also H. E. Public, who was out in the hall.

THE REED RULING.

Speaker Reed's ruling, as explained yesterday by a parliamentary expert, was that during the progress of a meeting, if it becomes necessary to call the roll to ascertain whether a quorum was present, all members in their seats or in the room who failed to answer "Present" were to be recorded as being present. This was ever stretched at times to include members in the reception and cloak rooms. It is claimed that Speaker Reed never applied this rule at the beginning of a session, when the roll was called to ascertain whether there were a sufficient number of members present to warrant the conduct of business.

Mr. Calpin practically admitted as much yesterday, but said that it didn't take much straining to make it apply at such a time also.

WAYWARD GIRL ARRESTED.

Found with Andrew Feretti in a Room Over Hotel Dewey.

Police Captain Williams was notified yesterday, shortly before 1 o'clock, that a young girl, apparently only about 15 or 16 years old, was in a room with a young man, over the Dewey saloon, on lower Lackawanna avenue.

He took Patrolman John D. Thomas with him, and the two went into the saloon about 1.15 p. m. and made inquiries. The police are confident that the upstairs rooms are rented out by the saloon people, but the latter professed ignorance and said that there was nobody in the room in question.

Captain Williams made a demand for a key and upon it being refused, Patrolman Thomas and he broke into the room in question.

They found the young girl, partially disrobed, in the company of a young man about 21 years old, and both were placed under arrest on the charge of lewdness. The girl gave her name as Ella Breck and her age as 17, though the police say she is not over 15 years old. The man gave his name as Andrew Feretti.

The police later ascertained that the girl is the daughter of Israel Breck, of Meridian street, and that she had been missing from home since last Friday.

MARRIED IN THE TEMPLE.

Isaac Joseph and Miss Anna Schwartz Wedded Last Evening.

Isaac Joseph, of Forest City, and Miss Anna Schwartz, daughter of A. Schwartz, of Penn avenue, were married last evening at 6.30 o'clock in the Linden street temple by Rev. H. Harris. A large gathering of friends and relatives had gathered in the temple to welcome the couple as they came down the aisle.

The bride was attired in a gown of white satin trimmed with applique and wore a bridal veil. She was attended by Miss Lillian Schwartz, her sister, who was also attired in white. The groomsmen was S. M. Silverstein, of New York city.

After the ceremony the wedding party repaired to Guernsey hall on North Washington avenue where a bounteous supper was served followed by a reception and dance. The Lawrence orchestra furnished the music and the honor of dancing with the bride was largely sought by all the young men present.

Among the guests present from out of town were the following: Mr. and Mrs. M. Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. J. Joseph, Miss Edna W. Farman, Morris Schwartz, and W. Silverstein, of New York city; H. M. Joseph, Abraham Joseph and Isadore Herwitz, of Forest City.

FIVE MORE ENTRIES.

Ambitious Young People Are Enrolling Their Names Now for the Educational Contest.

That the young people of Northeastern Pennsylvania are already becoming intensely interested in The Tribune's coming Educational Contest was evidenced yesterday by the fact that five of them applied to have their names enrolled as contestants. The entries were from outside the city of Scranton, while three reside within its limits. Their names follow:

Miss Arlene Capron, Kingsley.
Miss Jessie M. Stull, Forest City.
Walter Ellis, 150 Lafayette street.
Harry L. Madden, 539 Quincy avenue.
George Fenwick, 455 North Main avenue.

This year's contest should prove a tempting one to the ambitious and enterprising youth of this city and its environs. The long list of special rewards and their total value of over $9,000 present opportunities which are open to all. There is not a scholarship on the list which will not prove a lasting benefit to the fortunate winner, and there are so many of them and they are so varied in nature that every one can be assured they will be suited.

Although the contest does not formally open until Monday morning, May 5, those who intend to enter should send in their names now or as soon as possible. Canvassers' outfits will be sent to those who enroll in the order of their names on our list, and while all will stand an equal chance, still those who "begin to get ready to begin at the beginning" will have an advantage over those who defer their applications until the last moment.

A full list of the scholarships, with the rules of the contest, are printed every morning. They will be found on the fourth page of today's Tribune. All applications to be enrolled and letters of inquiry must be addressed: "Contest Editor, Scranton Tribune, Scranton, Pa."

Overflow meetings, rallies, conferences, etc., will be held in Carnegie Music hall and the various large churches of that vicinity. The convention choir is being drilled by Prof. J. P. ELKS HAD A JOLLY TIME

A SOCIAL SESSION CONDUCTED LAST NIGHT.

Large Gathering at the Lodge Rooms on Franklin Avenue—C. P. O'Malley, esq., Presided, and Imposed Fines Recklessly—Dan Daly Promised to Attend, but Didn't—Excellent Entertainment Was Afforded, However, by Members of His Company and Others.

A most successful "social session," that was on a par with all previous events of a similar nature given by the Scranton lodge of Elks, was conducted last night in the beautiful club rooms on Franklin avenue.

"The great and only" Dan Daly was expected to be present, and there was an extra large turn-out in consequence. He sent word at the last minute that he was really tired, after having impersonated a tired man in "The New Yorkers," and sent his regrets. There were a number of other clever theatrical people in attendance, however, and they made things lively.

Attorney C. P. O'Malley, to whom Elks refer to as the only and inimitable, presided, and imposed an extra large batch of fines. Members were fined for letting their cigars go out, for not smiling, and for doing various other inconsequential things.

A capable refreshment committee was headed by John J. Coyne, of Minnoka, who looked rather funny to say the least, walking across the floor with a big tray of lunches in one hand and three orders of liquid refreshments in the other.

Splendid vocal solos were rendered by Prof. Cousin, Edwin Bower and William Smith, of this city. The latter sang a marine song that took especially well with the audience. Mr. Wilbur, of the "Devil's Daughter" company, sang two comic songs in a clever manner and J. Boyd Gilmore, of the same company, also sang.

Someone introduced a gentleman from Daly's company as W. S. Connor. He had a decided Jewish cast of countenance and apologized when he reached the stage for being announced as an Irishman. He gave a Hebrew monologue in a remarkably clever manner.

Lieutenant L. P. Carter, inspector of rifle practice for the Thirteenth regiment and C. E. Tobey, assistant superintendent of the coal department of the D. & L. W. company, were called upon and made brief remarks. Lieutenant Carter's announcement that the Thirteenth regiment qualified more sharpshooters last year than four of the Philadelphia regiments, was loudly applauded.

The gathering was brought to a close shortly before 1 o'clock this morning with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

VERY YOUNG VAGRANT.

Walter Gibson, Aged 7 Years Picked Up on the Street—Sent to St. Patrick's Orphan Asylum.

The police docket at police headquarters is filled out in advance with the names of the prisoners and the offenses charged against them so that all the magistrate has to do is mark in the disposition of the cases. Yesterday morning Magistrate Miller, after finishing up with a number of common "drunks" glanced at the last name and read "Walter Gibson, vagrancy."

Mechanically his hand began to write "6 months" as he looked up to see the prisoner. He peered over his glasses but could see no one. The attending policeman was looking perfectly solemn and he looked around. No prisoner in sight.

"Walter Gibson," he said. "Walter Gibson to the bar. Walter Gibson—where is he?"

A half choked sob came to his ears apparently from under the floor.

"What's that?" asked the magistrate. "It's Walter Gibson, sir," said Sergeant Jones as he reached down in front of the big high desk and lifted up the most neglected looking forsaken little bit of a boy that ever was cradled in his mother's arms. His clothes were ragged and his shoes were broken; his hair was a tangle, smeared with dirt and he was rubbing two tear stained black eyes set in the dirtiest of dirty faces with a pair of the dirtiest imaginable hands. He was sobbing bitterly as the magistrate looked down at him.

"Found on Penn avenue before daylight this morning wandering around with no one to look after him. Put him down as a vagrant because I didn't know what else to class him as," said Sergeant Jones as he looked at the unfortunate looking mite of humanity in his arms and thought of his own carefully watched children at home.

"Well, well," said the magistrate, "this is a most unpleasant case. How old are you, my boy, and why were you out on the street all night?"

"I'm seven years old, and I was struggling to keep the tears back. 'Me mudder and me fader whips me when I'm in the house. Only me brudder was in las' night and he wouldn't open the door for me."

Mrs. Duggan who is always ready in such cases to step in and help, was prompted to hug the boy comforted to St. Patrick's orphan asylum.

Ruddy, Clear Faces Are Indications of Spring Health.

Paine's Celery Compound

Makes Pure, Red Blood and Establishes a New and Vigorous Vitality

Men and women who have used Paine's Celery Compound, and all who have knowledge of the wondrous cures it has wrought, particularly in springtime, unite in declaring that the great medicine is a national blessing.

The use of Paine's Celery Compound at this season by the weak, nervous, sleepless, and those afflicted with rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, liver trouble, kidney disease, and impure and poisoned blood, means pure, red blood, perfect digestive vigor, ruddy, clear faces, renewed strength and permanent health.

Thousands of grateful people have sent in unsolicited letters testifying to cures made by Paine's Celery Compound after the failures of doctors and use of poor medicines. The wealthy and poor, the noted and famous of our large cities and the quiet people of our rural districts have sent the glad news that at last they have found a remedy (Paine's Celery Compound) that has restored lost vitality and made them themselves again.

No proof of the efficiency of Paine's Celery Compound as a blood purifier and renovator can be more conclusive or forcible than the strong testimony offered by Mr. Ira Williams, of Jamestown, N. Y., one of the most popular traveling salesmen on the road. Mr. Williams says:

"Is now about eight years since I used Paine's Celery Compound, and cleared my system of impurities from which I suffered severely, on account of a breaking out all over my head and part of my body. I spent hundreds of dollars in employing the best physicians but they could do nothing for me. By the use of your wonderful medicine my recovery was complete. I am a traveling salesman, on the road most of the time, and sincerely believe that I have helped thousands of others by my personal testimony as to the wonderful curative properties of Paine's Celery Compound. It certainly merits its wonderful success, and it gives me great pleasure to say so."

She said that his parents live on Providence road and that she has frequently had them arrested for neglecting their children.

"There's a case," said Magistrate Miller last night, "that shows the urgent need of a separate place of confinement for child prisoners. There was this little boy locked up in a cell adjoining those occupied by hardened rounders and the lowest scum of the town. It's an outrage, that's what it is, but under existing conditions it can't be helped."
